Zarathustra
The first step is knowing when
to take the first step,
after that it is a waking dream
do you know, do you know what I mean?
Everyday is a new beginning there doesn't ever have to be an ending.
Every night is a new awakening
there is always something happening.
Destiny is a slippery fish
you can't reach out and grab it.
You have to walk sideways
You have to dance along with it.
Don't you want to go?
Don't you want to know?
Know how to dance?
Learn how to dance,
Learn how to dance with the Ubermensch!
